

CSSSM has money for local projects

photo Stanstead Journal

Seen here at the press conference to announce the additional funding for projects was (l. to r.) Alexandre Massicotte; Pierre Belanger, vice-president of the CSSSM Board; Pascale Gingras, general director of the Foundation; and Gilles Pouliot, president of the Foundation.

Victoria Vanier

The Memphremagog Hospital Foundation is uniting with the CSSSM to put in place a financing program to support projects and initiatives of local partners. For the years 2015-2016, the Foundation will give $30,000 in additional financing.

The call for projects is addressed to community organizations, social economy enterprises, non-profit coopera-tives of solidarity and more. The projects must be for the population in general or vulnerable members of the public. They must also encourage citizen participation and community-building. For more information visit the website of the CSSS Memphremagog or call Pascale Gingras at 819 843-2292 ext. 2557.

People have until March 13th, 4:00 pm, to submit a project.